

まかは便郵

小谷部全一郎様

札幌区大通西五丁目佐野屋方

Sapporo,
April 8, 1902.

Dear Sir:

Please inform Dr.
Heller of the Pennsylvania University, that the aconite used by the Ainu
in making their arrow
poison is Aconitum Fischeri, Reichenb. There is another species growing in Hokkaido, Aconitum volubile, Pall., var. japonicum, Maxim., equally poisonous, but not so virulent as one above mentioned.

Yours truly,

Kings Miyabe.